NSIC organises Training Program on E-Tendering for Capacity Building of SC-ST Entrepreneurs

The National SC-ST Hub, an initiative of Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME), Government of India, is being implemented by NSIC. The major objective of this initiative is to provide professional support to the SC-ST Entrepreneurs for participation in public procurement so that the mandate of minimum 4% procurement from such enterprises under Public Procurement Policy 2012 is achieved. As most of the procurement by the CPSEs/ Govt. Depts. is being done through e-tendering mode, it is impertave for the target beneficiaries to be fully conversant with it. Sensing this requirement, NSIC recently organised Training-cum Awareness Programs on E-Tendering for SC-ST MSEs at Jalandhar and Coimbatore .More such Training Programs on E-Tendering are being organised at various other SC/ST predominant locations across the country.

Dear Mr. Nath:

It was revealing to hear your description of where NSIC is today. Specially running a nation-wide network of 166 offices with only 900 staff, and running it profitably, is a great achievement. It is no wonder the Malaysian team was so impressed.

My own impression of NSIC, based on some brief interactions perhaps as long as 15 years ago, were of a very fuddy-duddy organization, very much in the standard unresponsive Govt department mould. Hearing you has made me realize that I must update myself on what you have now made NSIC, and how MSME's can and should take full benefit of what NSIC has to offer to MSME's

Hope to do so soon, and with you and NSIC continued success.

Best Regards

Ashok Saigal
